HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White III, still in good shape and remarkably alert, soared past the halfway point of their record space ride Saturday as medical monitors maintained a close watch on their condition.

The Air Force majors reached the midpoint of the planned four-day trip at 11:14 a.m. EST as their Gemini 4 spacecraft sailed more than 100 miles above the United States at the end of their 31st orbit.

Badly Mauled Viet Nam Army Strikes Back

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Government forces, badly battered by Viet Cong ambushes in recent days, struck back with the aid of armed U.S. helicopters and claimed today they killed 48 Communist guerrillas in a single action Friday.

A U.S. military spokesman reported that quick action by U.S. Army helicopter crews accounted for 20 of the Viet Cong dead.

Six Reds were captured and eight others taken as suspects in the operation near Vinh Long, 55 miles southwest of Saigon. Vietnamese units continued to comb the area Saturday with the support of armored and artillery units.

Four government soldiers reportedly were killed and four others were wounded with a U.S. Army adviser in Friday's clash. The adviser was struck in the left arm by hand grenade fragments. He was not injured seriously.

Government forces were not as fortunate in another engagement Friday. They reportedly killed five Viet Cong, but suffered 18 dead, two wounded and 32 missing themselves after a Communist battalion attacked three hamlets 265 miles northeast of Saigon.

This brought to 299 the toll of government forces killed, wounded or missing in action in the last three days.

Helmets Buzz

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II carry built-in alarm clocks in their helmets in case both should fall asleep at the same time and the ground wants to communicate with them.

Any of the ground stations around the world can summon them by sending a radio signal which triggers the buzzer, dubbed an astro alarm.

True Equality For Negroes Is Johnson's Goal

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has called for a new civil rights effort to achieve true equality for the American Negro—"not just equality as a right and a theory."

Johnson, delivering the commencement address Friday night at predominantly Negro Howard University, said the great majority of Negro Americans "still are another nation."

"Despite the court orders and the laws, the victories and speeches, for them the walls are rising and the gulf is widening," the President said.

Citing statistics on employment and income to show that Negroes, in some ways, are faring worse today than 5 or 10 years ago, Johnson said this represented an "American failure."

Conference Planned

The President, who took the occasion to announce plans for a special White House conference next fall to explore such problems, said:

"It is not enough to open the gates of opportunity. All our citizens must have the ability to walk through those gates."

"This is the next and the more profound stage of the battle for civil rights. We seek not just freedom but opportunity—not just legal equality but human ability—not just equality as a fact and a result."

Johnson, applauded frequently, spoke of seeking justice for the Negro and said:

"I pledge this will be a chief goal of my administration, and of my program next year, and in years to come. I hope it will be part of the program of all America."

Opportunity Not Enough

Johnson, who looked ahead to a time "when the only difference between Negroes and whites is the color of their skin," said:

"The task is to give 20 million Negroes the same chance as every other American to learn and grow—to work and share in society—to develop their abilities, physical, mental and spiritual—and to pursue their individual happiness."

For this, he said, equal opportunity "is essential but not enough—not enough."

The Johnson speech and conference plan brought praise from several leaders of essentially Negro organizations.

Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, said it was "a magnificent statement showing sensitivity and perceptiveness."

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, also praised the President's proposals, but added: "It will be even more meaningful if there is speedy passage of a voter rights bill in the meantime, and unequivocal federal backing for a massive voter registration drive this summer."

Erhard Confers In Washington On German Unity

WASHINGTON (AP)—West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard spent Friday in a series of conferences with President Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and congressional leaders.

Erhard and Johnson agreed to seek new ways to end the division of Germany and to resist weakening of the Atlantic alliance. Their joint communiqué also called for better relations with Communist Eastern Europe.

Erhard flew back to Germany after the day of meetings.

gota, Colombia; Point Loma Lighthouse, San Diego, Calif.; Lake Titicaca and Lake de Poopa in Bolivia, and the junction of the Blue Nile and the White Nile in Africa.

During the night White slept through a routine medical examination and had to be awakened in the 27th orbit for the exam.

Another In August?

The world space flight record is held by Russian cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky, who stayed aloft for 119 hours 6 minutes, just shy of five days, in 1963.

The United States plans to challenge that standard in August by sending Cooper and rookie astronaut Charles Conrad on a planned seven-day trip.

Whether they'll make the August date depends on what the medics learn from McDivitt and White. Their bodies were wired to record the slightest change in heart beat, respiration, pulse or temperature.

After they're back on earth, extensive examination is planned, including at least three days aboard the main recovery ship, the aircraft carrier Wasp.

The flights of Cooper and Bykovsky turned up disquieting symptoms, especially in heart and blood vessel systems accustomed to functioning in a gravity environment on earth.

As long as they were in weightless space, there was no major problem. The trouble cropped up after return to gravity.

Soviet scientists have admitted their concern over the Bykovsky findings and their subsequent cosmonaut flights have been limited to one day. It is believed the Soviets are developing a means of introducing artificial gravity to a spacecraft. The United States also has this approach under study.

For the remainder of the Gemini 4 flight the astronauts planned to drift lazily through their 17,500-mile-an-hour orbital path which ranges from 102 to 178 miles high and swings them around the globe once every 94 minutes.

Hodge said he was impressed with the "enthusiasm and the awareness and awakens questions on what they're doing and how they're doing it."

More Pictures Taken
During the morning the astronauts took turns taking pictures of prominent earth points which might be used as reference points to guide Project Apollo astronauts returning from moon voyages.

Among the photographic targets were Point Jiguera and Point Aguilla, both in Puerto Rico; El Dorado airport at Bogotá, Colombia; Point Loma Lighthouse, San Diego, Calif.; Lake Titicaca and Lake de Poopa in Bolivia, and the junction of the Blue Nile and the White Nile in Africa.

Legislators Put Fiscal Reform Off Until Fall

LANSING (AP)—Rumors of a fiscal reform legislative session this fall materialized Friday with the announcement by House and Senate Democratic leaders that lawmakers would return to Lansing "in late September or early October."

The meeting will "give full consideration to matters of taxation and revenues," said House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, and Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit.

The state's fiscal posture is being cramped between the Democratic schedule and Gov. George Romney's statement earlier in the week that he would not sign appropriations bills while merely hoping "they'll enact new revenues next year."

Romney did not say he would veto spending bills for the fiscal year beginning July 1, but there were hints of specific item vetoes.

The Democratic move also takes the initiative away from Romney, who said he might call the legislature into special session to handle fiscal reform.

If the lawmakers recess, instead of adjourning, Romney cannot call them back into session.

The legislative schedule calls for a windup of work by June 25 and final adjournment July 30. The legislature will complete its regular work by the end of June, but will come back in the fall, Kowalski and Dzendzel said.

"By late September we will have year-end figures for the current fiscal year and we will know the exact surplus as of June 30, 1965. We will have a more accurate picture of unspent appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30 and the final appropriations levels will be set for fiscal 1965-66," they said.

Tailoring the state's revenue to meet appropriations voted this year could mean the legislature will have to look for as much as $80 million in new income over the next two years. It has voted increases over Romney's recommended $788 million general fund budget for the coming fiscal year. The most substantial of these was a $71 million hike in state school aid or $40 million more than that recommended by Romney.

The anticipated $125 surplus at the end of the current fiscal year would take care of the increases easily.

Raiders Caught
KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Malaysian forces captured three armed Indonesian raiders in southwest Johore State today and are searching for others, the Defense Ministry announced.

A ministry spokesman said the raiders were part of a small band who landed on Johore's coast May 30.

At least 11 persons died in highway accidents during the height of the storms. Tree limbs and power lines were knocked down and windows were shattered by high winds. Streams went out of their banks and a number of persons were evacuated from low-lying areas.

Highways were flooded from south and west of Wichita and north and east of Kansas City as rains up to six inches soaked the area.

Strong winds ripped through nine farms, destroyed one farm home, and blew several cars off roads near Haven, Kan. Residents of the area in central Kansas reported two tornado funnels.

Nearly four inches of rain fell in Wichita in the six hours before midnight and streets overflowed as sewers were unable to handle the runoff. Merchants in the southern part of the city sandbagged the fronts of their stores.

The remaining 2,000 U.S. Marines, of an original leatherneck force of 6,000, prepared, meanwhile, to leave the Dominican Republic over the weekend.

The rest of the U.S. force, 12,500 paratroopers of the 82nd Airborne Division and 700 Air Force personnel, have been integrated into the newly formed inter-American force under formal control of the OAS.

The new OAS peace effort was launched Friday when its commission met with Msgr. Emanuele Clarizio, the papal nuncio, and with U.S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett. The Vatican's election was one of a number of possible compromise solutions under consideration.

An OAS trusteeship, followed by an election, and a coalition provisional government were other possibilities.

The Dominican rebels already have rejected an election formula proposed by the civilian-military junta. The rebels demanded restoration of the 1963 constitution and creation of a new government before an election.

Six previous major efforts to negotiate an agreement ended in failure, including those by Washington, the OAS, the United Nations and the Vatican.

There were reports that the new, three-nation mission, authorized Wednesday by a special OAS conference, brought from Washington a plan for a swift OAS-supervised election. But OAS and U.S. government sources only would say that the Stunning Ohio Blonde Chosen As Miss U.S.A.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A stunning blonde beauty from Ohio who dreamed as a child of becoming a nun holds the scepter today of Miss U.S.A.

Statuesque Sue Ann Downey, 20, of Columbus, Ohio, won the crown Friday night over 14 other finalists in the field of 47 and will represent this country in next month's Miss Universe pageant.

First runnerup, and Sue's stand-in, is Jane Nelson who as a voice major at Arizona State University represented that state. She lives in Tularosa, N.M., and was a finalist in last fall's Miss America Pageant as Miss New Mexico.

Judy Baldwin of Clovis, N.M., was second runnerup. The youngest entrant, Julie Andrus, 18, of Mayfield, Ky., was third. Blonde Dianna Batts, a secretary at the Pentagon in Washington from Falls Church, Va., was fourth.

"I'm elated. I don't believe it. It seems so, so impossible," said the shapely 35-24-35 inch, 5-foot-8 Ohio State University coed. "It's the most marvelous thing that has ever happened to me."

Winds And Rain Batter Kansas
By The Associated Press

Severe thunderstorms accompanied by damaging winds, hail and torrential rains swept across central and eastern Kansas into north central Missouri late Friday and early today.

At least 11 persons died in highway accidents during the height of the storms. Tree limbs and power lines were knocked down and windows were shattered by high winds. Streams went out of their banks and a number of persons were evacuated from low-lying areas.

Highways were flooded from south and west of Wichita and north and east of Kansas City as rains up to six inches soaked the area.

Deputy's Home Target Of Guns In Bogalusa, La.

BOGALUSA, La. (AP)—Gunmen fired six bullets into the home of the chief deputy sheriff early today as officers pressed their investigation of a terrorist-style murder.

Chief Deputy Doyle Holliday, who lives about four miles out of town, said he rushed from his house and emptied his .38 Magnum pistol at a fleeing car.

"Perhaps one of the shots did some damage but I am not sure," he said.

Two of the bullets fired by the nightriders ripped through the kitchen wall. Two hit an air conditioning unit and another lodged in the wall of a breezeway to the garage. The other could not be located in the darkness.

The shooting came as state, federal and local officers pressed a massive investigation into the shooting of Washington Parish's first Negro deputy sheriff—O'Neal Moore.

A white man charged in the case, Ernest R. McElveen, 41, of Bogalusa, waived extradition Friday and was returned to Louisiana from Tylertown, Miss., where he was arrested.

Holliday said he and his wife were sitting in a room behind the kitchen.

"The bullets hit the wall right behind us," he said.

Judges Linked Up With Bribes
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—A weary old man—a former member of the Oklahoma Supreme Court—stunned a federal court Friday by implicating three present members of the high state court in a bribery scandal.

The witness, N. S. Corn, 81 and in failing health, testified at the perjury trial of former Oklahoma City mayor O. A. Cargill Sr., 80, that Cargill helped for 20 years to finance his election campaigns in return for his vote on the high court.

Corn, who at one point told presiding Dist. Court Judge Roy W. Harper, St. Louis, "I violated my oath and I ruined myself completely, disgraced my family, disappointed my friends," said Cargill told him that five other justices on the nine-member court also had been "taken care of."

He identified them as Chief Justice Harry L. S. Halley, Denver Davison and W. H. Blackburn, and two former members of the court, Earl Welch and N. B. Johnson.

Welch resigned from the bench after being convicted of income tax evasion. Johnson was removed by the Senate on charges of accepting bribes.

Cargill is accused of lying to a federal grand jury when he said he did not know of bribes paid to the Supreme Court.

Auto Collision Takes 7 Lives
ROSALIA, Kan. (AP)—Seven persons including five children, died Friday night in a two-car collision during a heavy rainstorm five miles east of this south central Kansas community, 35 miles east of Wichita.

The Kansas Highway Patrol identified the dead in one car as Lyle Edward Jackson of Lincoln, Ill.; his wife, Bonnie, 25, and three sons, Mark, 2, Mike 4½, and a 1-year-old boy.

Two children also died in the other car, Scott Dewell, 10, and his sister, Krista Ann Dewell, 1. Their parents, Dr. Halbert L. Dewell, 33, of Eureka, Kan., and his wife, Joyce, 33, were injured.

Injured and sole survivor in the Jackson car was Mrs. Jackson's mother, Vivian Propst, Lincoln, Ill.

The patrol said the Jackson car was pulling a trailer and was eastbound on U.S. 54 when he skidded sideways and was struck at the door on the driver's side by the Dewell car.

The cars were ripped apart by the impact and most of the victims were thrown from the two vehicles.

Huge Posse Hunts Gunman In Two States

BIG SPRINGS, Neb. (AP)—A huge posse spread out across sprawling plains of western Nebraska and eastern Colorado today, hunting an icy-calm gunman who killed three bank employees with shots in the back and wounded a fourth.

"Every available man in 100 miles is taking part," said Sheriff Floyd Stahr.

Late Friday Sheriff Stahr, a 6-foot-4 man in a wide-brim Western hat, made his headquarters in the bank. State troopers, FBI agents, sheriff's officers and police from neighboring towns trooped in to report to him.

The 510 residents of this village astride the Denver-to-North Platte highway 10 miles north of the Colorado border were stunned by the killings Friday.

Fourth Badly Wounded
"I have no idea why he shot them," said county Atty. Robert Richards. "They didn't resist when he told them to lay down on their stomachs."

The gunman fired eight times as the four lay on the floor of the Farmers State Bank. Three died instantly. The fourth was critically wounded.

Killed were Andreas Kjeldgaard, 77, a bachelor who was president of the bank; Glenn Hendricksen, 59, the cashier; and Lois Ann Hothan, 35, bookkeeper.

Franklin Kjeldgaard, 25, nephew of Andreas, was taken to a Denver hospital with wounds in the neck and back. The hospital said today he was in critical condition.

Pascoe To Build Apartment House

James Pascoe, Escanaba building contractor, today is preparing to start foundation construction for a new apartment building following approval of his plans by the City Council at an informal meeting Thursday night.

The foundation will be started within a month, preliminary work will be done before fall, and construction on the building will continue as a winter project, Pascoe said.

"We plan to have the building ready for occupancy next spring," he said. "There will be 10 apartments in a building that will be 84 feet long and 44 feet wide."

Six of the units will have two bedrooms and four will have one bedroom each. The building will be brick veneer and will face 3rd Ave. S. at 8th St.

The design is contemporary in styling and sound-proofing will be stressed, Pascoe said.

Because there had been some questions to the Council when the project was first announced, Pascoe submitted the plans to the Council for approval and the plans may also be seen at the City Hall by interested persons.

City officials said the apartment project meets all zoning laws and the building code.

Pascoe will continue with his home construction program, which will not be interrupted in any way by the apartment building project, he said.

Award Is Won By Mel & Elmer

Mel Mankske and Elmer Dagenais, owners and operators of Mel & Elmer's Super Valu in Escanaba, have been named retailers of the month by Super Valu Stores, Inc.

Basis for the selection is the retailer's progressiveness, alertness to promotional opportunities, effective newspaper advertising and all around effort to build their store's share of the community's food dollar.

Mankske and Dagenais and their Super Valu store are also the subject of a double-page illustrated article in the current issue of the Retailer magazine.

The article tells the success story of the venture that got off to a bad start back in the spring of 1956, when the street in front of the store was being converted by the state highway department to a four-lane roadway.

"When the day finally came, that the store was opened, Mel and Elmer's Super Valu had a changed atmosphere. They came — and came — and eight years later on January 28, 1965, Mel and Elmer's had their grand Remodeling Sale," the story goes.

"They had just completed the addition of 4,000 square feet to their store, including an in-store bakery."

"The results have been just as they were when the highway opened — the customers came and shopped, and still are with an astounding 40 per cent increase in overall sales opening week, much of which they are still holding. They feel much of this is due to the addition of the bakery which has averaged 6.38% distribution in the five weeks after the opening."

Africa's Top Need Not Cash, Adventists Told

It is not money, technical assistance, or democratic ideals that are Africa's greatest needs today, W. D. Eva, Washington D. C., declared at the annual Seventh-day Adventist Church convention now in progress in the Upper Peninsula Auditorium S. 23rd St.

Eva, associate secretary of his denomination's General Conference, speaks from experience. Born and raised in South Africa of Dutch parentage, he has been a church official in that continent all of his life.

"If we as individual Christians were not so much afraid to love as Christ loved," he asserted, "millions in Africa today would not have turned their backs on Christianity and be looking as they are to Communism and the East for the fulfillment of their hopes and aspirations," said Mr. Eva.

"When we love without fear of its consequences to ourselves, the witness of Christianity will be irresistible."

About 500 visitors from throughout the Upper Peninsula were on hand today for the worship services and separate church services were scheduled for junior, kindergarten and primary youngsters.

This afternoon visitors to the conclave will here a report on the educational program of the church by Dr. Frank Knittel of the denomination's Andrews University in Berrien Springs, Mich. The church also operates five high schools and numerous elementary parochial schools throughout the state.

The convention will end tomorrow night with a final address by W. D. Eva.

Driver Can Keep Deer Hit By Car

LANSING (AP)—If you hit a deer with a car, you can keep it, the State Conservation Department statement Friday in a new policy statement.

The department said its new immediate-effect policy is tied in with the state's climbing increase in vehicle-deer accidents, which reached a new high of nearly 6,000 last year.

Conservation officers have been hard pressed to dispose of the animals struck down by motorists. At the same time, many drivers hitting deer have asked officers to give them the animals.

"With each smashup between whitetails and cars costing an average of about $200 in repairs, we don't anticipate people will deliberately try to hit a deer as a means of putting meat on the table," said John Anguilm, chief of the department's law enforcement section.

Previously, when the deer was not too badly damaged and the meat hadn't spoiled, the department turned it over to school lunch programs, sheriff's departments and public institutions.

To keep a deer, a motorist will have to obtain a permit from conservation officers to validate that the animal actually was killed by a car.

Persons allowed to keep the deer must use the meat or dispose of the animal within 30 days. They cannot give it away.

To avoid problems with other states, nonresidents will not be allowed to take home deer killed on Michigan highways.

Circuit Court Opens Monday

Arnold J. Beaudry of Milwaukee, charged with breaking and entering at DeRock's Sporting Goods Store, Gladstone, will be arraigned Monday before Judge Bernard H. Davidson as the June term of Circuit Court for Delta County opens in the Delta County Building.

Beaudry has been held in the Delta County jail since he waived examination when arraigned before Justice A. J. Mortier in Gladstone two weeks ago. He failed to post $1,000 bond.

Besides the criminal cases scheduled, 11 civil actions are calendared for jury hearing.

There are seven non-jury cases scheduled and 21 "no-progress" cases on the calendar. Twelve actions are scheduled for pre-trial action.

Citizen And Government

The meeting of the Upper Great Lakes Resource Development Committee in Escanaba this week revealed the dilemma of the devoted citizen in the role of advisor to government. The committee didn't resolve its problem, but it voted to incorporate and continue itself and, hopefully, to enlarge its influence in guiding the development of the resources of Northern Michigan, Northern Wisconsin and Northern Minnesota.

The committee is an outgrowth of the 1963 Duluth Conference on Land and People sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The Department wanted to make the conference successful, of course, and that inevitably meant follow-up work. It was undertaken by technical people from the Department's agencies and they selected a group of rural leaders in each of the three states and they now form the committee, along with the technical people.

These are able groups on both sides and because of their orientations — public interest on one side and loyalty to an employing agency on the other — they are like oil and water, but the committee makes an effort to mix the two and keep them in emulsion. It remembers their natures, though, and the agency people have no vote and speak only when asked questions.

The committee is more than a year and a half old now and it hasn't done much and its members have begun to ask as many questions about their own function as they do about the resources of the tri-state area. The dilemma of all advisory groups — lack of power of compulsion except by persuasion — is being brought home to the committee now because the North appears about to become the target for a massive federal effort in area development.

The situation is complicated by the fact that, while the committee was organized under the sponsorship of the Department of Agriculture, which operates many agencies including the Cooperative Extension Service in the tri-state area, the U. S. Department of Commerce will administer the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965 which will provide the $655 million jackpot for regional development authorities like that envisioned for the tri-state area. It would be a Little Appalachia sort of thing.

Governor Romney's preference for state programs over federal programs has kept Michigan from moving into closer official partnership with Wisconsin and Minnesota for tri-state development planning in the 81 county area, but if there's a hunk of the $655 million available to Michigan it won't go unclaimed for lack of Lansing cooperation.

Congressman Raymond Clevenger pointed out to the committee the benefits of some area planning. It's necessary for multi-state projects like the proposed Chicago-to-Green Bay segment for the Interstate Highway System and for the removal of fees on the Mackinac Bridge because the financial bottleneck there affects highway travel throughout the North Country.

The advisory committee does have a useful public function. It is impressively informed on the land and the people of the North.

It cannot get the administration to switch the pitch from the Department of Commerce to the Department of Agriculture, but it can protest neglect of Ag Department services already active in the field and available for development work.

It can use its influence for promotion of public works and economic developments that will be most meaningful to the area and least political. It can oppose government venture in areas where private venture can care for needs. It can seek out needs that do not always surface in government navigation. In the labyrinth of government activity it can erect some directional signs.

Forgotten

Speaking of the Great Society, there is a minority in America for which:

Unemployment averages 45 to 50 per cent; median family income is $1,500; housing is 90 per cent below acceptable standards; average educational level is five years; average age at death is 43.

Which has:

An infant mortality rate almost double that of the general population; influenza and pneumonia death rate twice as high; tuberculosis incidence seven times as great and TB death rate five times higher.

Where:

Infant mortality from parasites and other causes rare in the general population are a commonplace; diseases virtually unknown among other Americans, such as blindness-causing trachoma, still persist.

Whose members:

Often haul drinking water, from unsafe sources, a mile or more; live five to a room; have an accident death rate three times the national rate, caused by overcrowding, the use of gasoline or kerosene lamps, snake bites and other conditions typical of their primitive and isolated environment.

The minority is the original American, the Indian, who, except as a decoration in Western movies, has all but vanished from the national consciousness.

Indoors Yet

Now they're not only playing baseball mostly at night, when the sun seldom shines, but they're playing it indoors—under glass and in air-conditioning yet!

They have, in fact, removed baseball so far from its native habitat that in the magnificent new $31 million indoor sports arena in Houston, Tex., the big problem is that the darned daylight seeps through the lucite ceiling and makes it almost impossible for the players to see a fly ball.

Sunlight is now an enemy of baseball!

And can you remember when baseball was hailed as democracy in action—the lofty bank president rubbing elbows with the lowly clerk in one beautiful brotherhood?

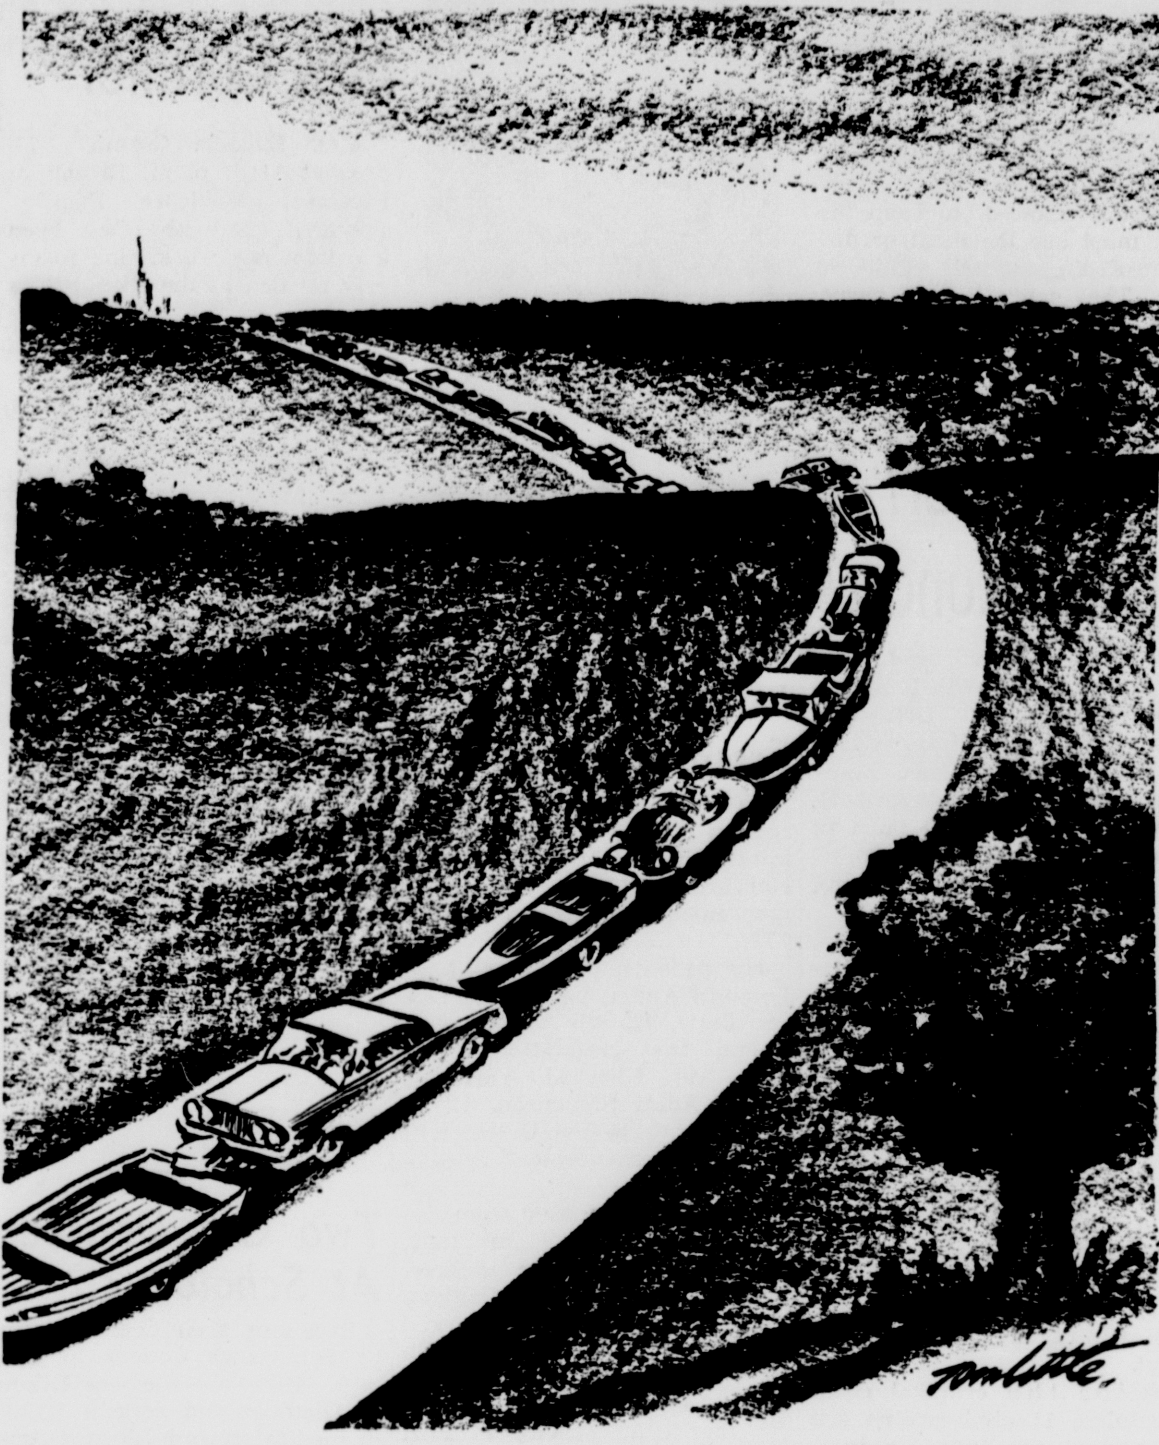

Well, in Houston a bank president can, by plunking down a mere $18,000, rent one of the 53 available plush "Skyboxes" in the indoor baseball palace and enjoy the people's game throughout the season with 24 of his invited peers amidst such simple fan fare as a bar, a television set, telephones, lounge chairs and private washrooms.

Something is happening to baseball? It is, indeed.

All together now, fans—let's hear it for the grand old game by singing the grand old song, "Take Me Out —oops—in to the Ball Game."

Or have we already been taken in?

BOUNTIES

Over half a century as a professional trapper of fur bearing animals, bounty the year around, (I do not dig them up and klunk them on the head, I trap them). If it had not been for the bounty, the north woods would have been overrun with timber wolves, very few deer and other game. Look what we have today, a plentiful supply of deer and other game.

It is a hair-raising sight to see the deer that had been killed by wolves. I found 14 deer following the trail of a wolf that broke my trap chain and escaped. Next day with a local game warden I continued the hunt and found 8 more deer, total 22 deer that had been killed by wolves. This wolf that escaped, had a trap on the left front foot and was feeding on these deer that had been killed the week before.

No bounty on wolves now and I have not seen the track of a single wolf since 1950. The coyote is a killer of deer and livestock. There were 125 lambs killed in one night by coyotes at Kenton, Mich. I have seen the tracks of 5 to 7 in a pack running deer and have found deer killed by a lone coyote.

Bobcats kill deer, follow the tracks in the snow near a deer yard and see for yourself. Rabbit and grouse also is part of their diet.

Trapping at present for bounty, since 1963, I have trapped 79 coyotes, bobcats and foxes. I'm not trapping for fun but for profit. With no bounty there is no reason for me to trap them. How many would these 79 produce in 2 to 5 years if they were not trapped?

I worked in different parts of the Upper Peninsula as a state trapper about seven years. The guy that wrote the line "easy money for the lazy trapper" is referring to himself, not the trapper.

Joe E. Fischer,
Former state trapper,
Land o' Lakes, Wis.

TEARS

The election is over! My side lost. I am now about to shed some tears. Not because my side lost, but because of the lack of interest shown by the majority of the qualified voters of Escanaba.

We have a total of 7724 persons registered to vote (there are an additional few hundred that haven't even taken the time to register or to activate their registration) yet only 3,302 persons, or 42.74 per cent of the registered voters had enough pride in their city to take the time to vote on June 1.

This is the saddest part of any election. Here is where you have a chance to speak your piece (by voting) and you have failed. There shouldn't be any election whether it be local, state, or national that we should have any trouble attaining a 75 per cent turnout of qualified voters. This would be the voice of the people.

I have shed my tears for now. Next election, I will probably have to shed a few more, because I know it will take more than this to get those of you that didn't vote to do so.

S. Africa Booms

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

South Africa's business reports show a steady stream of new industrial investment flowing toward the big cities which are the heart of the country's immense racial problems.

A new auto engine plant is set for Port Elizabeth. Near Pretoria an auto factory will go up. Cape Town gets a ball point pen plant. The construction industry in Johannesburg is hard-pressed to meet demand.

Last year South Africa's imports shot up 23 per cent over 1963, while exports were climbing just 6.4 per cent. A sizable part of the import figure represented capital goods investment linked with expansion.

Manpower requirements in the large cities are so great that Job Reservation, the once rigid legal formula limiting the job categories the black population can enter, is being relaxed.

Concerned that this trend might accelerate, the South African government has lured 100,000 white immigrants to the country in the last few years. It has now established a goal of 50,000 white immigrants a year, and is encouraging Europeans and others to come.

In an interview, Ambassador H. L. T. Taswell talked hopefully to me of greatly increased reliance on automation to help fill the manpower gap. The new engine plant will feature much automated equipment.

Economically, things are moving upward so fast the government even talks of slowing them down. Last year's heavy imports drew down the nation's reserves a little. Taswell says a 5 per cent annual rate of growth looks more desirable than 1964's astonishing 11 per cent.

Yet, viewed from the outside against the inescapable backdrop of its racial separation (apartheid) policies, the country seems engaged in a desperate race with time and countervailing worldwide trends.

While the big cities boom and the government presses economic decentralization to provide underpinning for the big "black reserves" which are central to the apartheid policy, the Bantu blacks around the urban centers have risen 15 per cent in numbers in just three years. As noted, they are finding their way into job categories heretofore denied to them. This inward flow and spread goes on apace at the very time the government seems to be earnestly committing itself more and more heavily to the effort to stem and then reverse the tide.

Some veterans of the South African scene question whether even the most dazzling industrial lures created in or near the black reserves will ever draw back large elements of the urban black population. Ripped loose from many of their tribal moorings, enticed by the attractions of modern, European-style cities, these nearly 3.5 million blacks show little disposition to move.

Prime Minister Verwoerd and his governing National party assert that it will be at least a dozen years before real change in perceptible. Critics in the opposition United party scoff at his timetable and say in parliamentary debate that the proposed great black trek away from the cities will never occur.

Even if industrial development in and near the black reserves should provide a lure for urban blacks, skeptics cannot see how white-owned industries in the established cities can operate on a clearly expanding basis without continued heavy dependence on Bantu labor. The talk of white immigration and automation to fill the gap is regarded as a thin reed.

Strong interest centers now on how well things proceed in the Transkei, the only Bantu homeland thus far given self-government and the attentions of an economic development corporation. (South Africa retains control of foreign affairs, defense, and internal security.) One critic calls the Transkei showpiece a "very small and sickly mouse." Economic progress within this reserve—about the size of Denmark—has been slow, but government officials say this is inescapable.

Other reserves are not yet close to having their own legislatures, though border industries planned near some of these may give them the beginnings of economic uplift.

Another story altogether is what kind of separation policies South Africa may turn to in and around the big cities if its elaborate program for a system of Balkan-style black "nations within a nation" should fail.

Finding The Way

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.

"We huddled in a corner of the basement while the winds howled, the storm sounding as though freight trains were roaring overhead. Then I was aware that rain was seeping through the floor. It was the first intimation that the house was gone." Stories such as these have been rampant throughout the violence of so many tornadoes this spring. These are the records of men and women who are suddenly caught in the terror of the storm.

Out of these moments come stories of incalculable heroism. Doctors worked around the clock without thought of giving in to their tired bodies. Men-monies came by the bus-load from Pennsylvania and Ohio, immediately setting up their shops and rebuilding homes and barns. They didn't send letters saying, "Let us know if we can do anything."

In contrast there were also the vulturous. Within minutes looters were combing through the wreckage. One grief-stricken man arrived at the site of his home only to see a man walking off with a television set.

In what must have been the height or depth of ghoulishness was the experience of one who found his father flattened against a tree, while a man was busily searching the dead man's pockets for his wallet!

The people had suffered from an impersonal wind and now they suffered impersonal callousness.

It's a tornado that rages in each man. The hero and the coward, the saint and the thief, the peaceful and the violent are all housed together. "Within my earthly temple there's a crowd, there's one that's humble, one that's proud . . . If I could only determine which is me!"

So an otherwise kindly man can mouth horrible prejudice. So a gentleman can slaughter her neighbor verbally. Even St. Paul could lament, "The good that I would do, I do not. The evil I would not do, that I do. O wretched man that I am, who shall deliver me?"

Erich Fromm has written of mankind. "In spite of all of his technological and intellectual progress, man is still caught in the idol worship of blood ties, property and institutions. His reason is still governed by irrational passions. He is still not experienced what it is to be fully human."

There are strong winds that buffet a man and he soon knows whether he has that quality of faith which enables him to "stand fast." In such moments we rejoice when we know that faith and courage which assures that "light breaks through where no sun shines."

Ann Landers This Woman Has Enough Trouble

Dear Ann Landers: I married a divorced man two years ago and we are getting along just fine.

Yesterday I heard that his ex-wife is pregnant. The man she was going with has left town and she doesn't know where he is. There is no chance that the child she is carrying belongs to my husband. He hasn't even seen her in over seven months.

We have been told that when this woman goes to the hospital she is going to use my husband's name. I don't think this would be fair to me or to my husband. Your advice is needed — DON'T WANT TO BE IDENTIFIED WITH HER

Dear Don't Want: If your husband's name is John Doe and his former wife has not remarried her name is still Mrs. John Doe. Most divorcees drop the John and use their own first name, however. In any event, it sounds to me as if this woman has enough trouble. Don't give her more.

Dear Ann Landers: You may print this letter because the woman involved does not read your column — or anything else. She is too busy sticking her nose in other people's business.

The woman is my husband's sister. She never married and she never expected my husband to marry either. When he did she was very disappointed.

Almost every week a package arrives. It is either a half dozen pairs of socks, a box of handkerchiefs, shirts, a couple of packages of shoelaces or a belt. Usually there is a note enclosed saying, "Conrad needs these."

These are not gifts, Ann. She charges the items to our account. I believe this is her way of letting me know I am not a good wife. What should be done? — ANNOYED

Dear Annoyed: Phone your husband's sister the next time a package arrives. Tell her you appreciate her thoughtfulness but let her know your husband does not need the articles. Ask her not to send any more merchandise to your home.

If she continues, go to the stores and request that no one be permitted to charge to your account except you. Then tell your sister-in-law you have done it.

When it's overdrawn, a gal's face isn't her fortune.

Dear Ann Landers: You face isn't her fortune.

Jail Building Badly Damaged

A "great amount of damage" has been done to a county-owned building in the 200 block, 1st Ave. S., the former Delta County jail and sheriff's residence, Escanaba police report.

The building has been vacant for about five months after the removal of the sheriff's office and prisoners to the new county jail. The building was not locked nor were the windows boarded over.

Escanaba police in response to a complaint at 4:50 p.m. Thursday investigated and found that a "great amount of damage had been done to the building."

"There are holes knocked in almost every wall and the fireplace had been torn out, and most of the windows broken," the report shows.

The police questioned five Escanaba boys, 15 and 16 years old. They are juveniles and under Michigan law their names may not be published.

Bark River-Harris Schools Prepare For 'Head Start'

BARK RIVER — The Bark River-Harris Public Schools have been notified that the United States Office of Economic Opportunity has approved a $8,790 grant to finance its participation this summer in "Project Head Start."

Supt. of Schools Richard Hendra announced that the Bark River-Harris program will begin at 10 a. m. Monday, June 21. Classes will end at 1 p. m. each day.

Hendra said that bus transportation and hot lunches for the children will be provided.

"Project Head Start" is an eight-week training session for pre-kindergarten children designed to provide children with the experiences they need to make the transition from home to school life.

Classes will be taught by three teachers from the Bark River-Harris staff, assisted by three mothers. Included in the tentative summer program is a visit to the Sells and Gray circus at Escanaba, June 22, courtesy of the Knights of Columbus and the Bark River State Bank, a picnic and other educational field trips.

About 50 children have registered for kindergarten in the area, Hendra reported, and under the enlarged grant approved, all will be invited to participate in the "Head Start" program.

"Families who have indicated they will participate will receive a letter containing details," Hendra said.

Briefly Told

The shift of the State Highway Dept. office mentioned in a Daily Press story about the proposed sale of the Catherine Bonifas Technical School building would be from 701 Ludington St., not from the sign shop on N. 21st St.

Radio Operators To Convene Here

Escanaba is the convention city this year for "ham" radio operators of the surrounding area. A regular annual get-together that will be held the week end of July 31-Aug. 1.

Hosts will be members of the Bay De Noc Radio Club. Chairmen for the event are Henry Olsen and Tom Elgeert of Escanaba.

The convention will be attended mostly by people of the Upper Peninsula although reservations have been made here already for people from lower Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana, they said.

The main purpose of the convention is a general meeting of the "hams" who talk with each other throughout the year via radio. Various activities are scheduled for the meeting including contests, equipment displays, and a "swap-shop."

A formal dinner and dance is planned for Saturday evening at the Eagles Hall and most of the remaining activities will be centered at the U. P. Fairgrounds.

The public will be invited to view the many displays and there will be guides on duty to answer questions.

"Ham radio operators come from all walks of life. From factory workers to big business men—from governmental representatives to royalty—from teenagers to college professors," the committee chairman said.

The Bay De Noc Radio Club said it will appreciate the cooperation of local citizens in making visitors "feel right at home here." About 500 persons are expected to attend.

Refuse To Fight Forest Fire; Two Pay Court Fines

Two men were arrested and brought to trial in the court of Justice Jack Church, Sault Ste. Marie, on May 18 for refusing to assist Fire Officer William Oliverius in extinguishing a 30 acre forest fire on May 4.

The fire officer was dispatched to put out a forest fire burning about 10 miles southeast of Sault Ste. Marie. The fire was spreading rapidly and Glen J. Fletcher, Rosedale Road, Sault Ste. Marie and Francis Desormeau, Hay Lake Road, Sault Ste. Marie, who were at the scene of the fire refused to assist the officer in putting out the blaze.

Oliverius finally received assistance from the local towerman and the fire was stopped at 30 acres. The two men were brought to Justice Church's court and demanded a trial where they were found guilty and each was assessed a total of $6.70 in fines.

Auto Mishaps Injure Three

Three persons were injured, none seriously, in two traffic accidents in Escanaba, police reported today.

Roy Terry Roberts, 10, of 215 N. 10th St., suffered bruises and abrasions when he ran in front of a car at Ludington and 10th Sts. at 4:02 p.m. Friday.

He was reported in good condition at St. Francis Hospital today.

The car was driven by Michael J. Knight, 20, of 723 Michigan Ave., Gladstone. Police reported that Knight was traveling about 20 miles an hour and the boy, crossing Ludington St. against the light, ran into the path of the car.

The other accident occurred at 12:20 a.m. today on the Danforth Road. Involved were cars driven by Roger Dale Richards, 20, of Gladstone Rte. 1, and Austin J. Pouliot, 1613 S. 16th St. Richards was ticketed by police for failing to yield the right of way.

Pouliot and Clinton Plouff, Gladstone Rte. 1, a passenger in the Richards car, suffered bruises in the accident.

Escanaba police reported that concluding their investigation of a hit-run accident, they have issued a traffic court summons to Patricia D. Wellman, 718½ Ludington St., for failing to stop and identify.

Fish Hatchery Water Problem To Be Corrected

LANSING—Decisions are due on land matters affecting a new state lake-park project northeast of Lansing, a proposed new state game area in Sanilac county, and an Upper Peninsula fish hatchery near Manistique when the Conservation Commission meets June 10-11 at Gaylord.

This month's meeting, the first of three scheduled around the state during the summer to stimulate local participation in conservation affairs, will be held in Gaylord.

Coming up for formal action at the following day's meeting, which starts at 9 a. m., is a proposal for acquiring about five acres on Thompson creek, Schoolcraft County, to clear the way for correcting a water supply problem at Thompson fish hatchery.

The Department plans to dig a diversion channel through these lands to control the flow and quality of water between its No. 1 and No. 2 units at the hatchery. In recent years, the hatchery's operations have been seriously hampered by low streamflow and an excessive warming of waters caused by seasonal dry periods, weed growth, and the dam building activities of beaver.

Last summer, several hundred thousand trout fingerlings were lost to this combination of problems.

True cranes fly with their necks outstretched, while herons always tuck theirs back on their shoulders.

Lawn Boy Safety Tips

Safe operation of power lawn mowers should begin with a good basic knowledge of the machine and how it works. Any operator — especially children if they will be handling the lawn mowing chores — should first become familiar with the mower's features and the important rules for safe operation.

So that your customers might be assured of a summer of safe, healthy lawn mowing, Lawn Boy passes along these noteworthy safety tips:

1. Know your controls. Learn how to stop the engine quickly in an emergency.
 2. Make sure the lawn is clear of sticks, stones, wire and debris that could be thrown by the blade.
 3. Keep children and pets at a good safe distance.
 4. On slopes or wet grass, be extra sure for your footing.
 5. Never cut the grass by pulling the mower towards you.
 6. Stop the engine before pushing the mower across gravel drives, walks or roads.
 7. Stop the engine whenever you leave the mower, even for a short time.
 8. Do not operate the engine where carbon monoxide fumes can collect.
 9. Stop the engine and disconnect spark wire before working on the mower.
 10. Never add fuel when engine is running. Fuel outside in fresh air only. Wipe up any spilled gas.

Lolich Has Usual Chore

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mickey Lolich, manager Charlie Dresen's stopper, has his work cut out this evening when the Detroit Tigers try to even a three-game series against the Cleveland Indians.

Lolich (7-2) has halted four Detroit losing streaks this year with key victories when things looked darkest.

The Indians knocked out Hank Aguirre Friday night on their way to a come-from-behind 7-6 victory. The key blow was a two-run pinch-hit single by Joe Azcue in the eighth.

Lolich, who is 2-2 lifetime against the Indians, will take on an old Tiger killer, southpaw Jack Kralick (1-4) who boasts an 8-3 lifetime mark against Detroit.

Azcue's hit followed a couple of walks and came off reliever Larry Sherry, who took the loss. The game opened another frustrating chapter in Indian starter Ralph Terry's bid for victory No. 100. This was his fifth try.

Terry was touched by Al Kaline's ninth homer of the year in the first with Norm Cash aboard. But rookie Pedro Gonzalez erased Detroit's edge with a three-run homer in the third, his first in the majors.

Aguirre handed the Indians another run in the fourth. Max Alvis singled, took second on a bunt and scored when Aguirre fired an attempted pickoff throw into centerfield.

The Tigers got three runs in the fifth for a 5-4 lead. Bill Freehan walked, Ray Oyler, substituting for injured Dick MacAuliffe at shortstop, bunted safely, and Freehan scored on Gates Brown's pinch double. Both Oyler and Brown came home on Cash's single.

Football Expansion Plans Outlined In Both Leagues

NEW YORK (AP) — The old established National Football League and the brash young American Football League are engaged in a tidy little tussle that may produce no losers—just winners.

Armed with millions and millions of dollars in television money, and immense public interest, both the 14-team NFL and eight-team AFL have announced plans to expand and share the wealth.

If there are any potential losers, they are only the many cities that have made bids for franchises and won't get them.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle has recommended his league add two teams by 1967. Houston is almost certain to be one of them. Boston, Miami and New Orleans are likely contenders for the other spot.

Houston and Boston have teams in the AFL.

Atlanta Top Choice
AFL Commissioner Joe Foss, when informed of the NFL move, said he'd thought about it much longer and might expand sooner, perhaps putting two new teams on the field by 1966.

Atlanta is almost certain to be one of them. The other prime contenders are Philadelphia, Miami and New Orleans. Chicago is another strong possibility. The NFL is firmly entrenched in Philadelphia and Chicago.

The AFL has an expansion meeting scheduled in New Jersey Monday and Tuesday. The league is expected to announce its two expansion cities at that time, beating the NFL to the punch by a year.

Atlanta has been pressing for an AFL franchise for some time and is apparently a bit miffed with the NFL. This dates back to the time the city was passed over in favor of St. Louis when the Cardinal franchise was shifted from Chicago.

Has New Stadium
Multimillion dollar offers have been made—and refused—to shift existing AFL franchises in Denver and San Diego to Atlanta. The southern city also has a new $18 million stadium to offer, sure-fire attendance and a television audience throughout the South.

Marking Philadelphia as a strong AFL possibility is the fact that Jerry Wolman, president of the NFL Philadelphia Eagles, has vigorously sought—but failed to acquire—exclusive use of a proposed $25 million stadium.

The Philadelphia group seeking an AFL franchise is a syndicate headed by Joseph McCrane, a one-time football player under Col. Red Blaik at West Point and now head of Garden State Park race track. Blaik would be a stockholder.

There is, however, a possibility that both Philadelphia and Chicago will be passed over by the AFL this time in favor of future expansion in 1968.

"It is our hope to add two teams for 1966 and two more in the next couple of years, probably by 1968," Foss said. "We are looking for the big cities, those that can take two teams but where only one team now exists."

Dome Is Available
He named Philadelphia and Chicago, along with Los Angeles, San Francisco, Cleveland and Detroit.

Houston appears headed for an NFL franchise because of recent maneuvering concerning use of the famed domed stadium. The AFL Houston Oilers announced Friday they have signed a five-year contract to play their games in Rice Stadium, leaving the domed stadium wide open for football.

Boston, the hub of New England, is the biggest metropolitan area untapped by the NFL.

Miami and New Orleans have excellent stadiums and professed interest, but may be lacking by comparison in the matter of "market," all-important in this day of television.

Rozelle said that with expansion, two eight-team conferences may be formed, each with two four-team divisions. The divisional leaders then would play off for the conference title and the conference winners play for the league title.

Both Rozelle and Foss predicted they would gain approval for their expansion plans. The AFL requires the vote of six of eight league directors, the NFL the approval of 12 of 14.

THE WILLIES—San Francisco Giants Willie Mays grabs teammate Willie McCovey by the jersey to snuff out an impending feud. The latter Willie got the willies when Houston's Bob Bruce hit him on the arm with a wild pitch.

Eddie Fisher Can't Zing But He Cuts Fine Record

By The Associated Press
Eddie Fisher can't zing, but that's some record he's cutting. Fisher, the ace Chicago reliever who employs the elusive knuckleball rather than a zinging fast ball, held the New York Yankees to one hit over the final six innings before the White Sox finally pulled out a 2-0 decision in 15 innings Friday night.

Fisher has a 5-0 record with an eye-popping 1.59 ERA. And if that doesn't really prove his effectiveness, the White Sox have won 17 of the 25 games in which he's appeared.

Fisher, however, had to share honors with teammate Danny Cater, who came to the plate in the 15th, hitless in his last 18 at bats and promptly drilled a homer that broke up the scoreless battle.

The loss dropped the defending American League champion Yankees 11½ games behind front-running Minnesota—the farthest they've been behind all season. The Twins remained 1½ games up on the White Sox by belting Washington 9-5.

Elsewhere, Cleveland edged Detroit 7-6 and the Los Angeles Angels defeated Baltimore 4-3.

The Boston-Kansas City game was rained out.

In the National League, Milwaukee downed the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-2, Cincinnati beat San Francisco 4-2, Houston whipped St. Louis 5-2. Philadelphia blanked the Chicago Cubs 6-0 and the New York Mets edged Pittsburgh 2-1.

Cater broke up the scoreless tie between the White Sox and the Yankees with a line shot to right field off Pete Mikkelsen. Floyd Robinson provided the other Chicago run with another homer, also to right.

Joe Horlen started for the White Sox and Bill Stafford for the Yankees. Horlen checked the Yankees on six hits, struck out seven and walked only one in nine innings.

Jimmie Hall stroked three hits for the Twins and turned in some daring base running while Gerry Fosnow ended the Senators' come-from-behind hopes with 2-23 innings of hitless relief.

Hall circled the bases for an inside-the-park homer in the fourth inning, then stretched a hit into a double in the seventh and scored from second base when Rich Rollins was safe on an error.

Bob Allison also homered for Minnesota while Woodie Held hit a three-run shot for Washington that chased Jim Katt and brought on Fosnow.

Joe Azcue drove in the tying and winning runs for the Indians with a pinch single in the eighth inning off Larry Sherry. The game-winner followed walks to Max Alvis and Chuck Hinton plus a ground out that put both runners in scoring position.

Al Kaline hit his ninth homer for the Tigers, off Ralph Terry, who was trying for the sixth time to nail the 100th victory of his career. Pedro Gonzalez connected for Cleveland.

Baltimore catcher Johnny Orsino, whose throwing error helped the Angels to their second run in the third inning, opened the door for two more in the fifth when he let the third strike to winning pitcher Marcelino Lopez get by him for a passed ball.

Jose Cardenal, Albie Pearson and Jim Fregosi then singled to bring in the runs that proved decisive.

Boros Has Lead At Grand Blanc

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) — Add Julius Boros to the list of people not afraid of the tough Warwick Hills golf course. He shot a two-under par 70 Friday to grab the second round lead in the $100,000 Buick Open.

His 139 gave him a two-stroke lead over seven others, including defending champion Tony Lema, Gary Player, Doug Sanders, Jack Nicklaus, and first-round leader Steve Spray.

Player, who recorded one of three 68s, said he was very happy with his round, especially on "this monster course."

George Archer and Jacky Cupit had the other 68s over the 7,280-yard layout, longest course on the pro tour.

Only 14 pros checked in with sub-par scores after two rounds of play.

Boros had fired 26 rounds previously on the same course, on which he captured the title two years ago, and averaged 72.69 strokes per round.

Boros already had pocketed $14,374.29 in Buick Open earnings prior to his 1963 victory.

His 274 in winning in 1963 is the tournament record.

Boros, 45, had four birdies and two bogies and holed a 50-foot explosion shot from a bunker on the eighth hole.

It took a score of 150 or better to advance to the final two rounds.

Among the casualties were U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi, Bruce Crampton, the only three-time winner on this year's tour; Mike Souchak, who won here in 1960, Don January, Chi Chi Rodriguez and Bob Charles. Boros described his play as "scattergun," adding he doesn't remember ever getting in and out of so much trouble in one round.

"The shot I holed from the bunker was one of four times I wound up in the sand. I hit a wedge to within two feet on No. 14, but was not as fortunate the other two times," he explained.

He said playing with close friend John Barnum of Belmont, Mich. also helped him.

"John and I are good friends, and fierce competitors," Boros said. "I don't know what it is but just playing with John seems to bring out the best in me."

Lema said he was pulling the ball quite a bit and had three bogies on the back nine, which he played first.

He was trapped twice and missed the green once.

Burson Sets 3-Mile Mark

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Northern Carolina College took the lead Friday night with 20 points after four final events were completed in the 14th annual National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics track and field championships.

Lincoln University of Missouri was runner-up with 14 points, and heavily favored Southern University of Louisiana was third with 13.

Lloyd Burson of Western New Mexico set an NAIA record for the three-mile run of 13:45.8. Jim Keefe of Central Connecticut State held the old record of 14:01.3 in 1963.

In the other finals, Stan McDonald of Lincoln University, Mo., won the discus with a toss of 167-7. George Anderson of Southern Louisiana College took the 100-yard dash in 9.4 and Norm Tate of North Carolina College successfully defended his broad jump title with a leap of 24-2½.

Four preliminaries were run, the 120-yard high hurdles, the 440-yard hurdles, the 880 dash and the 440 dash. Southern University qualified eight men in these events, while Lincoln and defending champion Emporia State of Kansas each had two.

Cardinal Hero Suffers Third Straight Loss

By The Associated Press
Hoot Gibson hasn't had so much trouble since the time the Indians surrounded him in a burning wagon and he ran out of bullets.

Of course, the old-time movie hero got out of that one. The St. Louis Cardinals' Hoot Gibson, sometimes known as Bob, still has his bullets, but he doesn't know whether he's going to get out of his current jam.

The Card right-hander fired one at Ron Brand Friday night and the Houston catcher sent it ricocheting into the stands for a three-run homer and a 5-2 victory.

It pinned the third straight loss on the Cards' 1964 World Series hero, marked St. Louis' ninth loss in 11 games and sent the World Champions dipping to the .500 mark.

They remained in fifth place, still 6½ games back, when National League-leading Los Angeles dropped a 5-2 decision at Milwaukee. The New York Mets won their fourth straight, holding off the Pirates 2-1 at Pittsburgh, and the Reds edged San Francisco 4-2 in other night games. Philadelphia blanked the Cubs 6-0 at Chicago in the only day game.

In the American League, Chicago beat the New York Yankees 2-0 in 15 innings, Cleveland bombed Washington 9-5 and the Los Angeles Angels edged Baltimore 4-3. Boston at Kansas City was rained out.

Gibson was breezing along with a one-hitter and a 1-0 lead when he walked Joe Morgan in the sixth. Walt Bond promptly homered for a 2-0 Houston lead. The Cards tied it later and it went to the ninth. A walk and Rusty Staub's single preceded Brand's two-out homer, his first of the season and only the fifth hit off Gibson.

A three-run homer in the ninth broke up another 2-2 game at Milwaukee. Eddie Mathews' 12th of the season did the job in that one, pulling the second-place Braves to within four games of the Dodgers. Winner Wade Blasingame started the winning rally with a single, followed by Felipe Alou's single.

Catcher Johnny Edwards' three-run homer, his third homer in four games, was the decisive factor in the Reds' victory over San Francisco. Willie McCovey's two-run shot accounted for all the Giant runs. Joey Jay was credited with the victory, but had to leave after five innings when his arm tightened.

The Mets' victory came in typical Met fashion—the winning run crossed in the seventh when the Pirates' Bill Mazeroski dropped the ball on an attempted double play, which would have ended the inning. Jack Fisher went the distance for his fifth victory, while Bob Friend lost his second in 15 lifetime decisions against New York.

Jim Bunning's five-hitter and a two-run homer by Wes Covington were enough to win against Chicago, but the Cubs chipped in with a couple of errors that made it even easier.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Part of playing any game is to learn how to settle the inevitable arguments. In a league in which nobody has a coin to toss, this is the time-honored method for getting the game started without a squabble. But there are other games to be played, in other leagues. Life for each of us brings many occasions for conflict. And they don't all yield to simple techniques like twirling a bat around one's shoulders with just a couple of fingers. Earnest Christians believe that our faith can point men to the right attitude and action in times of stress. That's why, as we face the conflicts of life, we always hope the other fellow will behave like a Christian. And he's hoping as much of us. Why not meet him in Church next Sunday? That's where right attitudes often begin.
